SECRETARY DECRIES A BIG NAVY

In Competition With the Heavily Armed European Powers

BUT URGES INCREASES AS IN FORMER YEARS.

PLANS A RESERVE NAVY

Of 25,000 Trained Sailors Formerly of the Navy, Ready for Practically Instant Service if the Need Ever Arises for Their Use.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 10.—Secretary Daniels told the House naval committee today that while the American navy had been "steadily strengthened in an orderly way" each year, the sentiment of the American people was against making the United States into a military nation in competition with the heavily armed powers of Europe.

The secretarys declarations today, close upon the remarkable testimony of Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander of the Atlantic fleet, who yesterday told the committee there was only one navy in the world—England's—to which the United States was not equal, came as a climax to two days discussion of the preparedness of the nation for defense.

Secretary Daniels declared he decried demands for great increases in the array of battleships and submarines and declared the United States already was a strong nation. He outlined this year's plan for two dreadnaughts, six torpedo boat destroyers, eight or more submarines, one of the seagoing type and the others for coast defense, one gunboat and one oiler.

He advised congress not to act any differently, in providing for naval strength than it would have acted if there had been no war in Europe. He declared that after the conflict abroad had been settled there would be many lessons made plain and he expressed the hope that the universal disarmament might come then, though no nation could afford to stop its construction program until an international agreement had become an actuality.

Mr. Daniels outlined a plan for a naval reserve to keep 25,000 trained former sailors of the navy for practically instant service and revealed that all retiring officers were being registered for that purpose now.

"There is no occasion," said the secretary, "to have as big and powerful a navy as England for instance but we ought to have a powerful navy steadily strengthened each year. My opinion is that universal disarmament will come but never by the action of any one nation and we would not further it by stopping construction now."

"If war should be jumped on us in a month would you feel that a defense would be successful?" he was asked.

"So far as the auxiliary transports and similar ships are concerned, we can command them at any time," the secretary said. "And with the progress we are making and the steady annual increase of the navy our country is in a very good position today." Secretary Daniels added, he never fully accepted the saying that the way to prevent war was to be prepared to fight, although it was as much a mistake not to have a strong navy. He said he believed in concentrating every dollar of money for construction in the fighting ships. The auxiliaries could be commanded at any time.

Questioned by congressmen of the committee, he agreed that to build a navy against England, a two battleship annually would be insufficient, but said "we are not building against any nation or against anybody, but simply against any untoward contingency."

He said he favored, as a general policy, the retiring of ships after they were twenty years old.

"Have we a powerful navy now?" he was asked.

"Yes, we have, but you never will keep anything powerful if you stand still." He added he would prefer 20 dreadnaughts to forty pre-dreadnoughts.

Von Hindenburg, Genius of the War, and His Staff, Taken In Poland.

This is the first photograph of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, considered by military experts to be, with General Joffre of the French army, the greatest genius developed by the war, taken since he has been in Poland. Dispatches show that he has just captured Lodz, a city of 450,000 in Russian Poland. This is the third time he has driven his troops into Russian Poland. It is the second time within a few weeks that he came near Warsaw, one of the greatest Russian cities. If he should succeed in taking it he will have dealt a severe blow to the hopes of the Russians. Von Hindenberg was recently made field marshal by Kaiser Wilhelm for his success in the eastern war. He is shown in the center of the photograph.

Fire Utterly Destroys Big Modern Barn On Ellis Jones' Dairy Farm

Fire of a mysterious origin which started at 6.10 o'clock Wednesday night, completely destroyed the large, new barn on the Ellis Jones farm, two miles east of the city, and just north of the Pennsylvania railroad company's tracks. The blaze was the most destructive which has visited any farm in Licking county in years. The loss is estimated at $8,000 to $10,000 and the owner was only partially protected by insurance. Fortunately, Mr. Jones and the hands on the farm, were able to rescue nearly 75 head of live stock, including the race horse. Utrelia, valued at $1,000, and the many fine dairy cows, and several valuable ponies.

The Jones family and the family of Mr. Keller, his superintendent, were all at supper when the fire was discovered. At that time the flames were leaping from the hay mow and when the cry of fire was heard, it was seen that prompt action would be necessary to save the live stock from death in the flames.

Every one worked rapidly, rushing into the burning structure and leading the animals to place of safety. Luckily the stock did not become panic-stricken and there was no loss of time in handling unruly cows or horses.

When the blaze was discovered, Mr. Jones entered the barn and made his way to the great hay loft. The flames were a seething mass in the passage way between two mows, indicating that the origin of the blaze was near this point. There was nothing whatever to indicate what might have started the fire, no suspicious characters having been seen about the place. Despite the close proximity of the farm to the railroad, the two families had not been annoyed by tramps or beggars.

Hardly had the last animal been removed from the structure before the roof fell in. The building was doomed from the first and no effort was made to save it. After the stock had been rescued the men on the farm and the neighbors and spectators who had been attracted by the fire, concentrated their efforts to saving other buildings from destruction. One or two of the smaller buildings were in grave danger at times but tireless work prevented the flames from communicating to these.

The burned barn was completed only last spring. It was regarded as one of the most complete and up-to-date of the more modern stock and dairy

French Report German Repulse In Two Attacks

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Paris, Dec. 10.—The day of December 9 passed quietly in Belgium as well as in the vicinity of Arras, according to the official statement given out at the war office in Paris this afternoon.

The war office claims French advances at several points on the extended battle front, and makes no mention of any reverse. For instance, near Lequesnoy, gains of from 200 to 600 yards were made. In the Aisne and on the heights of the Meuse the French artillery mastered the batteries of the enemy and near Reims French cannon compelled the evacuation of trenches. Counter attacks were repulsed near Perthes and in the Argonne. In the latter locality new trenches were taken by the French.

The text of the communication follows:

"The day of December 9 passed quietly in Belgium as well as in the region of Arras, where the enemy made no attempt at a resumption of offensive operations.

Further to the south, in the region of Lequesnoy and around Apchy, we made advances varying from 200 to 600 yards. Our gains were maintained and consolidated.

In the region of the Aisne and in Champagne there has been no change. The German artillery over which we gained the advantage during the last few days yesterday evidenced increased activity but was again mastered by our artillery. In the environs of Reims the heavy French pieces compelled the Germans to evacuate several trenches. This evacuation was carried out under the fire of our infantry.

"In the region of Perthes the enemy, by means of two counter attacks, endeavored to recapture the intrenchments which he lost to us December [illegible] was repulsed. The ground taken [illegible] us has been effectively protected.

"In all the Argonne region we have continued to make progress. We have occupied new trenches, repulsed with complete success six counter attacks and completed and consolidated ground won from the enemy.

"On the heights of the Meuse there have been artillery engagements in which we maintained a distinct advantage and this in spite of the very [illegible] activity of the batteries of the enemy.

S. O. S. Is Sent; Liners Rush to Aid of Steamer

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

San Luis Obispo, Calif., Dec. 10—The liners Harvard and Bear are rushing to the assistance of the passenger carrying steamer Centralia, which is anchored five miles south of Point Arguella Light, on the California coast north of the Santa Barbara Islands. The Centralia's machinery is disabled and a strong southerly wind has been threatening to drive her ashore.

The first wireless call for help from the Centralia was picked up by the radio station at Point Arguella at 5 a. m. It asked the operators to tell the steamer Aroline to "come as fast as she can and try to get some nearer point in the meantime."

The liner Harvard reported at 5 a. m. from a position off Point Arguella that she was going to the steamer's assistance.

The Centralia, a wooden vessel of 457 tons, is bound from Los Angeles to San Francisco. The number of passengers aboard is not known. The coast in the neighborhood of Point Arguella is dangerous and the south wind adds to the vessel's peril as the coast line there takes a sharp turn, running almost east and west.

[illegible] of anxiety while her [illegible] Centralia rides at anchor [illegible], five miles off the California coast at the western end of Santa Barbara channel. The liner Harvard is standing by, the wind has died down, and the Centralia, although disabled by the bursting of a boiler tube, is in no danger.

German Secret Agents Are Keeping Cruiser Informed of Movements of Merchant Ships

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Dec. 10.—The Will-o-the-wisp movements of the German cruiser Karlsruhe in South American and West Indian waters and the belief that German secret agents are keeping her informed of movements of merchant vessels, is working havoc with shipping along the South American coast, according to officers of the steamship Scottish Prince that arrived here today, from Santo

The Scottish Prince left Santos for New York on October 23. She received wireless reports that the Karlsruhe was watching for her, and altered her course to the extent that she steamed more than 1100 miles out of her way, almost to the west coast of Africa on the trip to New York. Nothing unusual was sighted, however, and she completed her voyage in safety.

At various ports of Brazil and Argentina, between the Amazon and Plata river officers of the ship said, on this voyage they counted eighty-seven German and Austrian steamships entered because of the war. At Santos they passed close to the German steamship Prussia that was interned by the port authorities on September [illegible] after being fined $1,000 for failure to comply with navigation laws of the country with particular reference to supplying fuel to warships of a belligerent nation.

Surviving Cruisers Fleeing

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Montevideo, Dec. 10.—Wireless reports received here indicate that the German cruisers, Dresden and Nurnburg, the survivors in the engagement with an English fleet, December 8, in which the Scharnhorst, the Geneisenau, and the Leipzig, were sunk, closely pursued by British warships are fleeing in the direction of Port Santa Cruz.

U. S. Senate May Ask for Truce

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 10.—A resolution was introduced in the senate today by Senator Kenyon, requesting the warring nations, in the name of congress of the United States, to declare a twenty-day truce over the Christmas holiadys, "that the Christian people of the world may fittingly observe Christmas season."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Dec. 10.—The British naval victory in the South Atlantic is being discussed in England today almost to the exclusion of all other phases of the war news. The last word regarding the naval engagement was that the British squadron, after sinking the German cruisers Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Leipsig, with the loss of nearly 2,000 men, was pursuing the fleeing Dresden and Nurnberg, the other two vessels present when the action opened.

The British public is awaiting anxiously for news of the outcome of the chase.

Naval observers, commenting on the action off the Falkland islands make note of the fact that in all naval engagements in the present war there is great disparity between the losses of the victors and the vanquished. In the case of the British cruisers Monmouth and Good Hope sent to the bottom by a German squadron off the coast of Chile early in November, the Germans were practically unscathed and the same is true of the British in their victorious engagement in the south Atlantic. In other words, defeat at sea means virtually annihilation and the loss of all crews with the exception of such men as the victors may be able to save.

This is attributed to a great extent to the fact that naval engagements have been between ships of unequal armament. The German guns outranged the British off the coast of Chile, and the roles were reversed off the Falkland Islands. Nevertheless it is argued that even with ships of similar armament the disproportion of losses between the victor and the vanquished would be greater by far than anything possible in land warfare.

The reported illness of Emperor William continues to be variously described. Some despatches say it is serious and perhaps pneumonia, while others declare he is a victim of mental depression, or that he is suffering from fever, chills and influenza. About all that is definitely known beyond the official bulletin which admitted that his majesty is suffering from bronchial catarrh, is that the emperor has returned quietly and unexpectedly to Berlin.

There has been little or no change in the general situation along the battle line in France and Belgium but the tone of all the French and British official statements reflects more and more the contention of the allies, that slowly and surely they are gaining a superior position. The belief prevails that when the moment is ripe an aggressive allied offensive will set in with the idea of clearing the Germans out, but it is not thought that this effort will be made until the Spring.

The eastern arena of the war, the occupation of Lodz by the Germans has been temporarily eclipsed by reports of the development of activity at two other points notably north of the Vistula from the southern part of East Prussia, whence the Germans are advancing in a southeasterly direction toward Warsaw, and in the country to the southeast of Cracow, where combined Austro-German forces are endeavoring to outflank the Russian left. This latter movement, according to Russia announcement has up to the present time been repulsed.

Confirmation of the death in South Africa of General Beyers and of the news of British successes on the Tigeris, by which they established themselves one fourth of the distance along the road to Bagdad, were other developments read with interest in England today.

Turkey Will Allow Relief To Be Sent to Jerusalem And Facilitate Distribution

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 10.—The Turkish government through Ambassador Morgenthau has signified to the state department its willingness that an expedition be sent to the relief of the people in Jerusalem. The expedition is being organized by Hebrew philanthropic societies in New York, which plans to send a ship through the Mediterranean to Palestine.

Turkey fully guarantees it will facilitate the distribution of all supplies sent from the United States and assures Mr. Morgenthau that no requisitions will be made on any of the shipments by Ottoman authorities. Consequently the request is made that the Turkish government be notified of the name of the relief ship which probably will be sent to Jaffa, the port of Jerusalem.

Word that Jerusalem was short of food supplies and that famine was imminent, came in private dispatches and a movement was immediately started in organization of an expedition.

NOT ENOUGH AMMUNITION FOR AN HOUR

IS NOW AVAILABLE TO CHARGE AMERICA'S COAST DEFENSE GUNS.

Gardner Addresses House and Takes a Shot at Bryan and Carnegie.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec 10.—Representative Gardner addressed the house today on his resolution for investigation of the preparedness of the nation for war. He prefaced his remarks by announcing that he had introduced a bill to enact into law Secretary Garrison's recommendation in his annual report published today to recruit the United States army to its full war strength.

A large portion of his speech Mr. Gardner devoted to an analysis of of national peril upon citizenry traintional defense in his annual address to congress, Tuesday. He declared the president had set up a "bogey man of straw," and that "if war were to break out today it would be found our coast defenses have not sufficient ammunition for an hour's fighting."

"'We must depend in every time President Wilson's references to naed and accustomed to arms,' says the president," said Representative Gardner, "but how are we to get enough citizenry, as he calls us ordinary people? Does the president realize that there are only 120,000 militiamen in this whole nation? Does he understand that 23,000 of them did not even show up last year for annual encampment? Is he aware that 53,000, or nearly half of this citizenry, never appeared at the rifle range during the whole course of last year?

"Where is this citizenry to get the weapons of war? According to the last report of the chief of staff we are short 316 field guns and 1,322,384 rounds of ammuntion necessary to equip our militia in time of war. Last year General Wood asked for enough guns and munition to bring the United States up to the standard of Bulgaria. That immodest demand was gently, but firmly, rejected.

"I will not say that we have only enough field artillery ammunition to last for a single day's battle if all our guns were engaged, but I will say that such is the statement which has been made to me by one of the highest officers in the United States army. I do not, however, attempt to estimate that if war were to break out today it would find our coast defenses have not sufficient ammunition for an hour's fighting. The chief-of-staff tells us that the ammunition for the coast defense mortars would last one-half hour and for the coast defense guns three-quarters of an hour.

"In short, then, our officers and officials have told us that we lack men for our navy, men for our coast defense, and men for our army; that we lack artillery and the ammunition with which to charge the artillery. That we lack great warships to sail the seas and little scouts to act as their messengers and their eyes; that we have a sadly-deficient under-sea navy, and practically no overhead fleet at all.

"I have proposed that an independent commission be appointed to investigate all these things, to recommend to us a definite policy for our future guidance.

"For the first time in the history of this country, so far as I know, a committee of this house has refused a hearing to one of the house's members.

"Arbitration! What a grand word! All that Carnegie has to show for his money is an unprepared England and an unprepared Belgium. Possibly I ought to accord him one other scalp to his tomahawk, although that scalp is made of imitation hair. The pacsifists boasts that their efforts have at least made every nation disclaim the responsibility for the war. Had Belgium, like Switzerland and Holland, put more confidence in her troops and less in arbitration and scraps of paper, she might today be free from the agony of invasion.

"Yet, every scrap of paper to which America puts her sign manual must be scrupulously redeemed. Come what may—we must fulfill our treaty obligations, even if every nation on earth is false. But, suppose that at some future time, we find our path beset by nations with smaller consciences and larger [illegible] what then? Shall we defend ourselves with mammoth rolls of Sunday school signatures, or shall [illegible] place our dependence in chautauqua lectures?

"Pending that day I would like a [illegible] more dogs of war, and I promise [illegible] to sic them onto the passers-[illegible]. I can dream of a day when society will be so well organized that [illegible] will be no more burglars."

YOU, TOO, WILL FAVOR The Practical Gift Movement

THE PRACTICAL GIFT MOVEMENT has been indorsed by public opinion. Since our first announcement of last Saturday night, we have received countless favorable comments concerning this worthy idea.

"Peace on Earth; Good Will Toward Men," is a beautiful Christmas thought. Have you paused to realize how well the American people are carrying out its every meaning? They have sent a Christmas ship loaded with gifts to the destitute children of battle-scarred Europe, to gladden thir sorrowful hearts on a day that would otherwise have no diversion from the horrors of war. They liberally and willingly contributed to the various relief funds to relieve the want and suffering that has followed in the wake of war. They have been holding mammoth mass meetings all over the country, in an attempt to bring about peace between the warring nations. And, now that the care-worn and battle-begrimed soldiers may celebrate the Joyous Christmas Season free from the thoughts of war, the people of this mighty nation are trying to arrange an armistice during the Holiday period.

Can we wonder, then, why frivolous and useless expenditures have been put aside? The conditions of dire need, that we hear and read about from the battle zones of trembling Europe, cannot help but paint a mental picture of inconceivable suffering—humanity hopelessly wrestling with the problem of existence. Thoughts such as these, which have prompted the citizens of this country to lend a helping hand to those across the seas have also instilled a spirit of practical usefulness to those who are nearer and dearer to them.

North, South, East and West, the practical gift movement is an assured fact — welcomed by millions as an idea worthy of thought and practice. Join in this movement yourself. Gladden the hearts of those you wish to make happy on Christmas morn by giving them gifts of a practical nature—gifts they will utilize and appreciate.

TEACHERS VISIT SCHOOLS.

The Central school was dismissed Thursday evening for the week in order that the teachers employed in that building might visit other schools over the city and familiarize themselves with their conduct. The exchange of ideas it is believed will work advantageously to all the teachers.

EDISON WILL REBUILD HIS RUINED PLANT

AGED INVENTOR NOT DISMAYED IN THE LEAST BY THE FIRE LOSS OF $7,000,000

Entire Force of Employes Put to Work Today Removing the Debris.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

West Orange, N. J., Dec. 10.—When the fire which swept the 10 acre manufacturing plant of the Thomas A. Edison Company's plant here was extinguished today hurried inventory of the damage revealed that eleven of the 18 buildings had been destroyed, others had been damaged and that the loss whould approximate $7,000,000. Seven thousand men are employed at the plant and half of these, it is estimated, will be out of work temporarily.

The entire force of employes was put to work today at removing the debris. Under the active supervision of Thomas A. Edison [illegible] tearing down the concrete walls which had been removed, while the embers were cooling.

Immediate steps to rebuild have been taken.

At least one man perished in the flames. This became known today with the finding of a charred body in the ruins of the film house where the explosion occurred which started the blaze. Two other men, both workmen were reported missing.

The flames were beaten back from the laboratory and workshop of Mr. Edison where were stored innumerable records and materials gathered from every corner of the world, the result of more than thirty years of the inventor's efforts. At the height of the fire a force of men removed the most valuable records of Mr Edison's home in Llelwyn Park, not far away.

EMPLOYES ORDERED TO REPORT FOR WORK AS USUAL, MONDAY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

West Orange, N. J., Dec. 10.—Early today the fire that destroved eleven of the eighteen buildings of the manufacturing plant of the Thomas A. Edison Company here was under control and it was announced that there was no further danger of the destruction of the laboratory and storage battery plant. Several other buildings, including the warehouse for the storage of finished products of the plant and the power house also were far enough removed from the burned section to prevent their destruction.

When the fire was at its height, Thomas A. Edison, whose inventions are perfected and manufactured at the plant, announced that work of rebuilding would be started as soon as the debris cooled sufficiently for workmen to clear it away. In line with this announcement word was sent out early today to all employees of the plant to report for duty as usual, but prepared to assist in reconstruction work. Many of the 7,000 men and women employed by the company will be retained in their regular capacity, it was said, while all will be given employment of some kind.

The loss was estimated today at between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000. The plant was covered by $2,000,000 regular insurance, the remainder of the loss being protected by a self-insurance fund maintained by the company. This, however, was said to be small.

There were between 25 and 50 men and women working at the plant last night when the fire started and it was impossible to ascertain until a poll of all employes could be taken today whether reports that several lives were lost are true.

APPOINTED TO BRING WOMEN STUDENTS' WISHES BEFORE COLLEGE AUTHORITIES

Elaborate Reception Wednesday by Mrs. Justus Rose and Daughter—Granville News.

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, Dec. 10.—In order to make proper arrangements for the women of the Conservatory and the girls of Doane Academy in the way of advisors and as a means of bringing their wishes before the proper authorities of the college, the trustees have appointed Miss Fanny Ferrar as advisor to the women of the Conservatory and Miss Ruth Orcutt as advisor to the girls of Doane Academy. In this way those students who do not come under the jurisdiction of the Student Association will have representatives that correspond to the president of the Student Association. Dean Judson will be the head of the whole organization of women in Denison, but part of the executive duties will be entrusted to the president of the Student Association for women of Sheparoson, to Miss Ferrar for the women of the Conservatory, and to Miss Ruth Orcutt for the girls of Doane Academy.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 9, the home of Mrs. Charles Justus Rose was the scene of one of the most delightful social events of the season, when she and her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Johnson received their friends from three until five o'clock in compliment to Mrs. Karl Eschman, a Thanksgiving day bride. The invitation list included only wives of resident Denison trustees, wives of Denison professors, and members of the Shepardson and Conservatory faculties, who formed a charming welcome to offset the inclemency of the weather. In the receiving line, stationed in the reception room in front of a bank of greenery, were the hostesses, Mrs. Rose handsome in black Chantilly lace over ivory satin, Mrs. Johnson in white embroidered fillet lace and blue chiffon, Mrs. Eschman in cream and rose-flowered chiffon. Mrs. Clark W. Chamberlain in white crepe and black Chantilly lace, Mrs. Edward O. Arnold of Mt. Vernon in a Paris creation of black lace and chiffon, Mrs. Millard Brelsford in grey chiffon. Assistant hostesses were: Mrs. W. P Ullman, Mrs. T. G. Field, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Mrs. C. E. Stanton, and Mrs. Thomas Morris of Cleveland, O. The dining room, all in green and white, even to the dainty refreshments, was presided over by young ladies. Miss Mary McKibben and Miss Dorothy Swartz poured coffee, which was passed to the guests by Miss Harriet Swetland of Mt. Vernon, Miss Janet Pond of Somerset, and Miss Eva Wilson of Granville. In the living room, Miss Ruth Rockwood gave a piano recital, which heightened enjoyment even though it did not silence conversation. Out of town guests were: Mrs. Edward O. Arnold Miss Harriet Swetland, Mt. Vernon; Mrs. R. S. Ewards, Des Moines, Ia.; Mrs. Thomas Morris, Cleveland, O.; Miss Janet Pond, Somerset, O.

Prof. Victor Hoppe of the department of public speaking in Denison University, gave a masterly reading of "The Man from Home," in Recital Hall last evening to a large and enthusiastic audience. The entertainment was complimentary to the new students, but Professor Hoppe's friends in town availed themselves of the privilege of hearing this talented reader in the famous play, which specially appeals to the patriotic American just at this time. Since last heard in recital here, Prof. Hoppe has gained in breadth of conception, and in artistic finish. He possesses a pleasing and forceful personality, dramatic fervor and a natural gift of clever impersonation so that one actually visualizes the scenes of the play, and retains almost as vivid impressions of the characters as though he had seen them all in their proper stage setting.

Dr. Chamberlain, president of Denison University, was the guest of honor at a most elaborate banquet given in Dayton December 1 by the board of governors of the Engineers Club. Such men as Wilbur Wright, the engineers of the Morgan Engineering company, who are the engineers for the Flood Prevention Plans of the Miami Valley, leading engineers from the National Cash Register company, the Delco Plant and other companies were in attendance.

Mrs. Edward O Arnold of Mt. Vernon, O., who has been the house guest of Mrs. C. J. Rose, returned home this morning.

The board of managers of the Fanny Doane Home for Missionary children held its quarterly meeting at the home yesterday, for the transaction of important business. Lunchen was served and a pleasant as well as profitable day was enjoyed. Those present were Rev. C. E. Stanton, president, Mrs Stanton, Rev. and Mrs T. G. Field, Mrs. C. J. Baldwin, Mrs C. J. Rose Dr. W. A. Chamberlain all of Granville Mrs Edward O Arnold of Mt Vernon, O. Mr. Graves and Miss Wood, Columbus, O.

Four Months of War.

After war for four months on a scale unparalleled in the history of the world, involving four continents and all the seven seas, observes the Independent, New York, the verdict of victory has not been given. If this were the mimic warfare of the maneuvers—would that it were!—and the umpire should call time today he probably would pronounce it a drawn game. If he decided by territorial gains he would say the Germans have won. But if he took into consideration positions and prospects he would say that the advantage lay with the allies. Considering the war on the sea the decision would be the same. The Germans are reported to have lost twenty-eight naval vessels and the British twenty, but if we count by size instead of numbers the advantage lies the other way, for the tonnage of the British losses is more than three times that of the Germans. Both sides, however, have avoided a general engagement; so their naval strength stands about as it did before the war, that is, the German fleet is about half the size of the British, to say nothing of the French and Russian. So here we may also say that the honors are even, but the allies have the advantage.

Continuing, the Independent says: The Germans have been so far successful in their policy of carrying the war into the enemy's country. Except for the Russian occupation of the greater part of the province of East Prussia and a French raid into Alsace in the first weeks of the war German soil has been free from invasion, and if the war should be brought to an end now as the Russo Japanese war was by the peace of Portsmouth on the basis of uti possidetis or of ground actually occupied, the Germans would have gained more territory in Europe than even their jingoes dared hope for before the war. They now hold all Belgium except the little corner below Ostend, a half dozen departments of northern France and in indefinite amount of Russian Poland. The only German territory now under a foreign flag is a strip some ten or fifteen miles wide along the frontier of East Prussia. The Austrians have lost half of Galicia and gained a bit of Servian territory.

Evening stars: Jupiter, Mars. Morning stars: Mercury, Venus, Saturn. The white star seen near the horizon in the northwest early in the evening is the notably bright Vega, belonging to constellation Lyra (the Harp).

Town Harmony.

One of the great problems which every movement for civic advance has to meet, is that of lining up all elements for team work. Harmonious co-operation of all interests is necessary.

A great many communities are cursed by petty jealousies. Their power for mischief affects every public enterprise. If one man starts a movement, all the people who do not like him begin to throw cold water. They make sarcastic remarks about his project. The result is that people feel disinclined to take hold and push, for fear lest they make themselves ridiculous.

It is difficult to promote public objects under the most favorable conditions. The moment that people let personal feeling enter in, it becomes impossible to get unity of action. One set of people will try one thing, only to see it fail under a wet blanket of ironical skepticism. They feel disgusted, and the next time any one else starts anything they in turn stand back and jeer.

The practical outcome is that every one feels afraid of starting any new movement, for fear of becoming ridiculous. It is easier to stand on one side and make superior remarks about the poor judgment of your neighbors than to take hold and push. Civic sentiment dissipates, and the town growth languishes.

Is there anything of that spirit here? Most towns have something of it, and some have far more than others. In so far as it exists, people should get over it. They must pull together, ignoring personal differences, if they want Newark to advance in population and public advantages.

Hand to Mouth.

One great reason why people do not buy Christmas gifts early is that half of them are always living from hand to mouth. If they bought their gifts the first week in December, it would simply mean that the butcher and the grocer would have to wait for their money.

Where people live in this way, as the result of illness, business incompetence, or other misfortune, they are entitled to a most hearty sympathy. But in a great many [illegible] this condition results simply [illegible] a happy-go-lucky inability [illegible] one's income and outgo [illegible].

[illegible] not some [illegible] they [illegible] the neighbors to bring in the [illegible] and clothes. It is a habit that always leads to misery and household wreck. There are a host of people living on small incomes, who by frugal planning do manage to keep a little balance in the bank. Thus they can take their share in a movement so sound and helpful as buying Christmas goods early.

Cartoonist "Billy" Ireland, as he is affectionately called, has a new daughter, and from all reports she is about the finest baby in Columbus. Well, a man who can draw as well as Mr. Ireland draws (and there is none better) deserves the finest baby in Columbus.

Judging by the recent action of the Greek letter fraternities on admission of candidates, scholarship and good morals count almost as much as athletic success.

The gradual renewal of the facilities by which the public can lose its money on the stock exchanges has had a marked result to restore financial confidence.

Soon the time will be here when the business man will energetically begin the work of the day by reading over the quotations for his pet stocks.

All the newspapers have to do to get up a pictorial war supplement nowadays is to run the same old pictures they had two weeks previously.

Many people are helping on the early shopping movement by deciding where they will go the day before Christmas to buy their gifts.

Many of the people who write the war poems seem to think that it is not good poetry if you can understand what it means.

It is believed that with proper encouragement, many of the society girls would take hold and knit neckties for the Belgians.

If the boarders are docile from now until Christmas, they may get a dinner of cold storage turkey on that day.

A revolutionary effort is being made in Mexico to increase the president's term to six weeks.

Novel Bequest.

Both novel and praiseworthy was the bequest recently left by Charles B. Travis to Amherst University, the income of a trust which is to be paid annually, not for scholarship, but to the student, who makes most sincerely a man of himself.—Erie (Pa.) Dispatch.

Years of Prosperity.

According to a current news item "the blast furnace of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation are operating full. The ordnance and armor plate works are running day and night. The rail and structural mills are operating single turn." All under a democratic tariff, too! President Charles M. Schwab has predicted ten years of prosperity, though it was only in 1913 that he was predicting trouble if duties were reduced or removal in the steel trade. Municipal Dance.

The municipal dance should from now on be recognized as an established institution. We believe that it will be so recognized. Its existence [illegible] by all the principles which [illegible] the municipality and [illegible] bodies in Chicago [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] playgrounds are created to counteract. Although in its incipiency, it is plainly seen that it will be as effective in its peculiar sphere as are these larger instrumentalities in a larger sphere.—Chicago Herald.

Of course, men are supposed to be hardier than women, but if they were to expose their necks and chests in cold weather as women do the entire bunch would have pneumonia.—Houston Post.

Threat or Promise?

A prominent eastern astrologer cautions his readers to bear in mind that "the effect of lunation are subordinate to those of the quarterly ingresses." If only he will tell us now whether this is a threat or a promise our relief of mind will be great.—St. Paul Dispatch.

President's Call to Service.

The central thought of the president's message is service [illegible] ourselves, it is true, but not the less service of others. The nation, on account of the war, he tells us, is confronted by new tasks. The nations of Europe, [illegible] by the [illegible] strife, are to be helped by this country as never before, while the [illegible] American republics that have been accustomed in large part to [illegible] Europe must now look to the Great [illegible] of all, however, in his [illegible] is the service that we shall [illegible] if we do not lose our self-possession, to render the belligerent nations [illegible] whom we may "not only speak, but actually embody and exemplify the counsels of peace and amity and the lasting concord which is based on justice and fair and generous dealing." The opportunity for the great service, he says, "should make us ashamed of any thought of hostility or fearful preparation for trouble." How small-minded, by comparison with this utterance, do all the clamorings of the jingoes appear.—Columbus Dispatch.

The village of Granville alone raised a fund of $390. The girls of Shepardson college are giving $75 this week. The Everett company of Newark has sent a full carload of canned fruit. Brand Whitlock cabled Governor Cox appealing for help from Ohio. The Belgians are facing starvation.

The United States is the only country in position to give relief and people in every section are responding to the call.

These who desire to participate in this contribution to the Belgians are invited to send checks or cash to this office before next Saturday, Dec. 12. Good by, old friend, the iceman! You are a smooth and nice man, a kindly, genial soul; we do not need you longer; the winds are growing stronger, and we are buying coal. Now Autumn is retreating, we spend our coin for heating our lowly, humble shack; to cook the morning sinkers we're buying slate and clinkers and forty kinds of slack. The coal man gets our dollars, and still for more he hollers, he has to have the price; our bin again he's filling, and so we have no shilling to throw away for ice. But cheer up, weeping iceman! You'll come back in a trice, man! The winter's gone so soon! Before we know what's chancing, the Spring will be advancing, the sizzling days of June. Old Time's in such a hurry, in such a fret and flurry, a season's hardly here, before it flies, a-gasping, and we are left here grasping the tail end of a year. The coal man hurts, dod rust him, but ere we've fully cussed him, his graft will fizzle out; a thaw the cold will slaughter, and from each roof the water will gurgle through a spout. Oh, then the iceman merry will take his dromedary, his donkey or cayuse, and drive around the city, and sing a hopeful ditty, and sell his frozen juice.

CATARRH TRUTH

TOLD IN A SIMPLE WAY

No Apparatus, Inhalers, Salves, Lotions, Harmful Drugs, Smoke or Electricity.

HEALS DAY AND NIGHT

It is a new way. It is something absolutely different. No lotions, sprays or sickly smelling salves or creams. No atomizer, or any apparatus of any kind. Nothing to smoke or inhale. No steaming or rubbing or injections. No electricity or vibration or massage. No powder, no plasters, no keeping in the house. Nothing of that kind at all.

Something new and different, something delightful and healthful, something instantly successful. You do not have to wait and linger and pay out a lot of money. You can stop it overnight—and I will gladly tell you how FREE. I am not a doctor and this is not a so-called doctor's prescription—but I am cured, and my friends are cured, and you can be cured. Your sufferings will stop at once like magic.

I AM FREE—YOU CAN BE FREE

My catarrh was filthy and loathsome. It made me ill. It dulled my mind. It undermined my health and was weakening my will. The hawking, coughing, spitting made me obnoxious to all, and my foul breath and disgusting habits made even my loved ones avoid me secretly. My delight in life was dulled and my faculties impaired. I know that in time it would bring me to an untimely grave, because every moment of the day and night it was slowly yet surely sapping my vitality.

But I found a cure, and I am ready to tell you about it FREE. Write me promptly.

RISK JUST ONE CENT.

Send no money. Just your name and address on a postal card. Say: "Dear Sam Katz: Please tell me how you cured your catarrh and how I can cure mine." That's all you need to say. I will understand, and I will write to you with complete information, FREE, at once. Do not delay. Send postal card or write me a letter today. Don't think of turning this page until you have asked for this wonderful treatment that can do for you what it has done for me.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes scrofula sores, boils and other eruptions, because it drives out of the blood the humors that cause them. Eruptions cannot be successfully treated with external applications, because these cannot purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. Insist on having Hood's. Get it now.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try this! Mix Sage Tea and Sulphur and brush it through your hair, taking one strand at a time.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger. Frank D. Hall agent.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

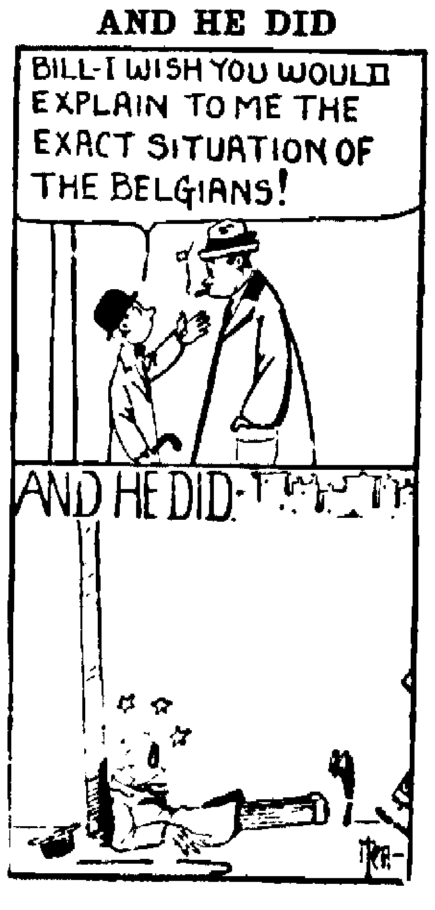

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

A project worthy of splendid support is announced by the Nutter and Hawkins orchestra, with Mrs. Alta Fields as accompanist, in the promotion of a charity ball at Moser Hall, in West Main street, on Monday evening, December 14.

The entire receipts from the sale of tickets, which are announced at 35c each, will go towards furnishing a Christmas tree for the Children's Home. There will be no charges for the hall, music or any other expenses and it means that the gross receipts will be net and that all money taken in at the door will go for the purpose for which it is intended.

Tickets can be procured from orchestra members or at McDaniel's restaurant in North Park Place.

RICHARD DOE IN ATLANTA; WRITES HOME

Richard Doe, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Doe of Columbus, formerly of Newark, is in Atlanta, Ga., and is anxious to return home. This information was contained in a letter to Giles Smucker of this city which came Thursday morning from Mr. Ed Doe.

According to this letter, the boy wrote a post card to his parents, advising them of his whereabouts. He added that he was anxious to return home. Arrangements were made at once for his return. He has been missing from home for ten days and no trace had been secured of him until the card was received, except that he had been traced as far as Perkersburg several days ago.

B. & O. CHANGES ARE IMPORTANT; SHOPS CLOSE

Dispatchers Baird, Frost and Beath have been transferred to Kibler's and Dispatchers Haight, Holmes and Foley to Weiant's.

The assistant trainmaster of this division and the assistant road foreman have also been temporarily furloughed. The machine shops have closed until January 4, 1915.

DRIVES AWAY HEADACHE

Rub Musterole on Forehead and Temples

A headache remedy without the dangers of "headache medicine." Relieves headache and that miserable feeling from cold or congestion. And it acts at once! MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Used only externally, and in no way can affect stomach and heart, as some internal medicines do.

STYLE

(By Mary Ellsworth Fuller.)

If we paid attention to our duty,
 instead of to the style,
We'd fill some lives with gratitude, and our own would be "worth the while."
Weigh all the style with pleasure, see which fills the heart with glee.
The lass pinched up with corsets, or the lass that dresses loose and free.
The one that does as mother did, in her good old-fashioned way,
Delights in cooking a square meal,
 bring the curds and whey.
The one that sweeps and dusts the house, keeps things in their place
Is worth a MILLION dolled-up girls with grease paint on her face.
The lass with natural eyebrows, no
 carmine on her cheeks, so fair,
The one that never used a rat, or put the false puffs in her hair,
Is the one the boys will prize and seek, and find her if they can.
For the one that looks real good to them, is built from nature's plan.

NEUTRALITY

CONSERVED BY NOT ISSUING REGULAR MONTHLY, COMPARATIVE NAVAL REPORT

Might Be Improper for U. S. to Set Forth Fighting Strength of Warring Nations.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 10. In order that the United States may observe strict neutrality in the European war the navy department will not issue this month the usual comparative statement of the warship tonnage of the principal naval powers of the world, hitherto issued in December and July of each year. Instead of attempting to prepare a statement corrected to date, the intelligence office of the department today reissued the statement of last July when all of the nations now at war were pursuing the paths of peace.

While the issuance by the United States of a statement setting forth the naval strength of the warring nations might be no favor in itself, it was also pointed out that the changes wrought on the various navies by destruction of vessels on the one hand and purchase and completion of craft on the other would make it quite impossible to compile the necessary data.

The July statement, reissued today shows Great Britain at the head of the list with a completed tonnage of 2,157,850, while the other nations in the order of their tonnage are Germany, United States, France, Japan, Italy, Russia and Austria-Hungary. This statement shows that with the completion of vessels built and building July 1, the order would be Great Britain, Germany, France, United States, Japan, Russia, Italy, Austria-Hungary. This latter calculation would place the United States fourth instead of third among the world naval powers.

THE NEW

Farmers Directory Of Licking County

WITH NUMBERED ROAD MAP

The publishers of the old reliable FARM JOURNAL, of Philadelphia, are making a canvass of this county to get names, information, pictures, etc., for the new FARMERS' DIRECTORY OF THE COUNTY, like those which we have published with such success in other States.

This book will give the name, postoffice, and rural route of each farmer, with his wife's name, number of children, his telephone number, and the township and map number of the road on which he lives; also many interesting pictures of farms and farmers, schools, pupils and teachers, portraits of well-known people, etc.

It will also contain a complete classified BUSINESS DIRECTORY of tradesmen, lawyers, physicians, banks, and business houses in the entire country, arranged under their proper business headings. This classified Directory, with its interesting advertisements, is much used by farmers and housekeepers when deciding where to buy supplies or have work done.

In both town and country the telephone numbers of BOTH systems will be given, making the book DOUBLY useful to every user of either telephone.

Our County Directories are highly valued by both farmers and business men. Ordinary City Directories are common enough, but County Directories, giving a Road Map of the County, and full information about farmers and rural business men, as well as those in towns, are almost unknown, and our Directories accordingly sell in very large numbers.

In one New Jersey county, where there are only 2252 farms, we sold over 2200 copies of our Directory. In Bucks County, Pa., we received nearly 4000 orders, and in Lancaster County, over 6000.

Publishing these Directories is costly, because canvassing in the country is much more expensive than in the city. We furnish each canvasser with horse and buggy, and every road in the county must be traveled, and every farm and house visited. Then we have a special ROAD MAP engraved for each county, and we get up many special illustrations

To advance subscribers, however, our County Directory with Road Map, will be sold at less than half the usual price of City Directories alone, simply because by our canvass we get large numbers of subscriptions to the Farm Journal.

Advance subscribers will get the Directory and Road Map and also a paid-up FIVE-YEAR subscription to the Farm Journal—ALL THREE FOR $1.95

Farm Journal representatives ask for NO MONEY IN ADVANCE but only for signed ORDERS, to be paid for later. This makes it absolutely SAFE to order this valuable Directory and Road Map IN ADVANCE and secure it at the low advance price.

It is very important that we should get EVERY NAME CORRECT, with full information for the Business Directory. To make sure of this, [illegible] NOW to our County Manager. See address below.

EXPERT SUGGESTS TIME FOR PRUNING OF GRAPE VINES

Almost every home in Licking county has more or less fruit, of some kind or other, growing around the home. For the benefit of these people there will appear in this column each week a seasonal suggestion as to what to do to better the production of these various trees, vines or bushes.

If these suggestions are carried out, the person will be well rewarded by the increase in both the quantity and the quality of the fruit raised.

Many homes have an arbor with several grapevines on it. Possibly these did not bear many clusters last summer, or the grapes themselves were undersized. A few hours spent this fall in a little judicious pruning will help to remedy that trouble. The time for pruning grapevines is in the fall or winter when the vines are dormant (not growing). They should not be cut when the sap is flowing or when the vines are frozen. The grapes are usually borne on new shoots which grow from the wood of the previous year. That is, during the summer of 1914 a shoot or new branch grew from a bud. Later in the summer buds formed on this shoot. During the coming spring these buds will develop into shoots which will bear the grapes of 1915.

For grapevines growing on arbors the spur system of pruning is generally best. The growth of last summer can easily be identified by tracing the new wood back from the tip of the shoots to where they join the wood of the previous season's growth. This will generally be a branch from which the last summer's growth is an offshoot. Cut the shoots of last summer back, leaving only two buds on each one. This will usually be all the winter pruning necessary.

The following spring only one shoot, and that the most vigorous, from each of the two buds is allowed to grow. These shoots should be carefully guarded as they are very tender and may be broken off if not supported until sufficiently hardened, or until they have clasped the arbor with their tendrils. These fruit-bearing shoots should be trained on the parts of the arbor.

The fruit clusters will be borne on these shoots. There will be from one to four clusters per shoot, depending upon their particular variety of grape. Each shoot should be pinched off between the thumb-nail and forefinger at a point about 10 inches beyond the last bunch of fruit. The shoot will then have a tendency to throw out laterals or side branches. They, too, should be pinched off at the second or third leaf from their base. This will be all the summer pruning that the bearing wood will require.

SPEAKER CLARK MAKES ADDRESS ON WATERWAYS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Dec. 10.—Speaker Champ Clark and five other members of congress were on the program for addresses at today's session of the national rivers and harbor's congress. They included Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, Sheppard of Texas, Smith of Michigan, Saulsbury of Delaware, and Representative Baker of California.

Senator Weeks had prepared an address in which he advocated the appropriation of a lump sum for waterways improvements to be expended under direction of a commission composed largely, if not entirely, of army engineers. In this manner he declared there would be a development of projects which most urgently required it.

HOG CHOLERA CAUSED BIG LOSS.

Hog cholera caused a loss of $73,000,000 in the United States during 1913. The resulting loss of pork is estimated to be over $100,000,000. Iowa was the heaviest loser, having lost 2,000,000 hogs or two-seventh of the entire loss for the year. The loss in Ohio was fortunately much less than that of Iowa. No doubt this loss of hogs and pork has had its effect in forcing the price of pork upwards, thus the consuming public suffers from the loss, but the producers' loss is not reduced in any way. It is, therefore, as much to the advantage of the consuming public as of the producer to have such diseases successfully combatted, even at public expense.

INVESTIGATION MINE TROUBLES STILL CONTINUES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Denver, Colo., Dec. 10.—Although the order terminating the Colorado coal miners strike went into effect at midnight, last night, and the period of Colorado's industrial unrest was generally considered at an end, the federal commission on industrial relations proceeded today with its investigation of the strike

Perhaps the most important testimony yesterday was that of Jefferson Farr, sheriff of Huerfano county, who said he had commissioned 326 deputies of unknown citizenship.

Rev. James McDonald, a mechanic and ordained Methodist minister of Hastings and Aguilar mining camps, who was at Aguilar during the burning of Ludlow, told of spending 48 hours on the prairie clothing refugee families of the striking miners.

The Victor-American Fuel company has opposed his church work as it had the Presbyterian worker who had preceded him, he said. McDonald testified he did not believe the opposition was personal or denominational, but because the company feared the miners might become enlightened in their rights.

He had never urged unionism in his sermons, nor had the company attempted to influence his sermons, he said.

Since his testimony at an investigation at Washington, he said, he had received anonymous communications threatening physical violence.

Young Woman Said to Have Memory Lapse

HAS BEEN FOR A MONTH IN CARE OF PROMINENT KENTUCKY FAMILY.

Where She Remains a Mystery as to Her Identity—Cultured and Refined.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 10. "Belva Brown" well educated, about 22 years old and apparently a young woman of refinement, who walked into Louisville a month ago inquiring the "road to Rochester, N. Y." has proven the despair of the police and a mystery to a number of wealthy residents of Anchorage, a suburb, where she has found shelter. She declared she came from Chicago and was seeking relatives at St. Matthews, another Louisville suburb. Investigation failed to locate them and finally she was given a temporary home with a prominent family in Anchorage.

Meanwhile clues to her identity led to cities in two states New York, where she said her father was a member of the Wall Street firm of Brown and Orth; Rochester, where she gave the address of her family as 1223 East Avenue and Boston 240 Summer street, which she recited was the home of William Brown, whose relationship to her she did not disclose. Telegrams sent by the Louisville police to these addresses were returned with the notation "could not be located."

She says she left home to escape an undesirable marriage. Notwithstanding the inability to verify her stories she has convinced a number of wealthy residents of Anchorage that she is a person of consequence whose memory may be temporarily clouded.

BIG HERRING CATCH IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

St. Johns, N. F., Dec. 10.—Reports from the winter herring fishery off the west coast of Newfoundland now in midseason indicate that the catch will be fairly large. In a good year about 100,000 barrels of the fish are taken in the three centers of the industry, Bone Bay, Bay of Islands and Bay St. George. Of this approximately two-thirds goes to the United States and the remaining third to Canada. The herring are used partly for food purposes, when smoked, but are chiefly valuable as bait for the cod fisheries.

A LETTER FROM SANTA CLAUS.

To the Editor of This Paper:

Sir—Won't somebody please stop the rumor that is fast gaining ground? Not only grownups, but nearly every boy and girl, on being questioned will promptly say, with a nice little shake of the head, "There is no Santa Claus." Now, this is pretty hard on a fellow who has been "on the job" hundreds of years.

I am going to ask a favor of my still faithful followers, wherever they may be, hoping that some time I will be able to serve them once more. This is what they are to do: Send one present, say, to some one without having their names appear. Imagine the surprise and delight and guesses as to who might have sent it. The receiver may exclaim, "It must have come from Santy," or, more probably, he or she will radiate smiles to every one, seeing in each friend and relative a possible sender. This will warm the heart of

Rapid Rise In Wholesale Price Of Foodstuffs

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Dec. 10.—Rapid rise in the wholesale prices of foodstuffs in the United States since the European war began, is noted in a report today by the department of commerce. Wholesale prices of leading articles of factory consumption and many of the staple articles of food, showed a downward trend during 1913 and 1914 until the outbreak of the war.

Between January 1 and October 31, this year, granulated sugar increased more than one and one-half cents a pound; wheat, 20 cents a bushel; family beef, $5 a barrel; tea, 2 1-2 cents a pound; corn, 5 cents a bushel; oats, 8 cents a bushel, and native beef steers, $16.65.

During the same period coffee prices decreased almost 3 cents a pound, and mess pork, $2.25 a barrel.

80 PER CENT OF SEAL SALES TO STAY HERE

Remaining 20 Per Cent. Goes to Red Cross to Aid Fight Against Tuberculosis.

Red Cross Christmas seals are now on sale at the Advocate office. They cost one cent each and every penny received goes to help the sick—to fight tuberculosis.

By special arrangement 80 per cent. of the money derived from the sale of seals will remain in Newark and will be expended under the direction of the Newark Federated Clubs as was done last year. The other 20 per cent. goes to the Red Cross to help in its fight against consumption.

Everybody can buy one seal. Many can buy 25, 50, 100 or more.

Every cent will be used to help the afflicted. Every Christmas letter, every Christmas package should have a Red Cross seal attached.

Ellen, who is seven years old and lives out in Kansas City, came home from school the other day with a red, green and white "subscription card" the teacher had given her. Her mother had seen something about Red Cross Seals in the paper, but didn't know just what it was all about. So it was up to Ellen to explain.

"Oh," said the seven-year-old proudly, "don't you know? They use the money to take care of sick folks with—sick folks that haven't any money to take care of 'emselves. The money they get from the Santy Claus seals goes to run a hospital for those folks. And they pay doctors and nurses to teach people how to get well and how not to get sick."

Then Ellen's mother read the folder that small daughter had brought home telling how often tuberculosis can be prevented, and when she had finished she signed the card for a liberal number of seals.

The Red Cross seals may now be obtained at the Advocate office. They are one cent each.

Business Outlook.
Editor of the Advocate:
Sir—We have received this morning copy of the Advocate and note your editorial reference. For our own part, really, we cannot see anything in the legislation which has been placed upon the statute books to cause business men to hesitate. We do fear, however, that due to the rather continued depression many of our business interests have fallen into a rut from which it will require something rather drastic to shake them. At any rate, we are continuing to hope for a much better outlook for the future and orders which have been placed with us recently would indicate that these hopes should not be without some practical outcome.

NEW RULE TO PROTECT WEAK CLUBS PROPOSED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
New York, Dec. 10.—A resolution designed to aid weaker teams in the circuit by proposing that hereafter a club cannot withdraw waivers on players once they have been asked was one of the few questions that remained to be acted upon today by the club owners of the National league in annual session here. It is expected that the resolution will be adopted.
Interest in American league affairs today centered about the negotiations for the sale of the New York club to Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Jr. President John[illegible], who had been conducting the negotiations said last night that the deal was still a possibility and this has given rise to reports that a compromise over the purchase price had been effected.

FLETCHER

COMPARES OUR NAVY WITH OTHERS IN HIS REMARKABLE TESTIMONY.

Declined to Say U. S. Fleet Could Protect Islands in War With Japan.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Dec. 10.—Inquiry into the condition of the American navy, in the light of the European war, was continued in open session today before the house naval affairs committee. Secretary Daniels had been invited as the principal witness before the committee.

Comitteemen were still discussing today the remarkable testimony of Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, before the committee yesterday, when he frankly discussed the condition of the navy as contrasted with the navies of the principal nations.

The assertion was made by the admiral that with the exception of Great Britain, the American navy could successfully defend itself against the navy of any other nation. Conflict between the United States and Great Britain was such a remote possibility, in his opinion, that he did not believe in a naval policy for this country having as its object control of the seas as against England, although he admitted that the latter's navy was more powerful.

Declaring that while the American navy was overmatched only by England, Admiral Fletcher said that if this country continued to build only two battleships a year, Germany, on the basis of her present construction program, soon would be far in the lead.

Although he declined to say that the American fleet alone could successfully defend Hawaii and the Philippines in a conflict with Japan, the admiral had no doubt of the ability of the United States to control the seas in a naval conflict with that country.

Contending that ultimate naval success still rested with dreadnoughts, the admiral declared that submarines would not seriously affect the vital principles of naval warfare.

Theatres

"The Wolf."

"The Wolf," undoubtedly the greatest success of that now-famous author, Eugene Walter, will be the attraction at the Victoria, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. "The Wolf" is a melodrama of the Canadian-Hudson Bay country, in three acts, and the first act takes place in front of the home of Andrew McTavish, a Scotch trader, on the banks of the Wind river, the second act is the interior of the same home, and the third is in the woods at the portage of Little Bear river. The action consumes but a day.

Years before the story of "The Wolf" begins, a half-sister of Jules Beaubien has been betrayed by an American adventurer, and on his deathbed Jules' father tells him to find his step-sister, Annette, and care of her. Jules goes north on the search, but finds that his sister met voluntary death in a storm, after her betrayal. He determines to find the man and avenge his step-sister's wrongs, enlisting with him, Batiste LeGrande, a nomad.

In the first act, William McDonald, and his assistant, George Huntley, are found stopping at the McTavish home, while promoting the construction of a railroad. McDonald has been making love to McTavish's daughter, Hilda—a child hated by her father because he wished for a son, and because her mother deserted him on account of his abuse. Jules and Batiste arrive. Jules is Hilda's admirer, but has never spoken his love. To him McDonald boosts that although he is married, he is going to take Hilda away with him. In his boasting he admits that it was he who drove Annette to her death in the storm.

In the second act McDonald tricks McTavish into promising that Hilda shall go with him. When McTavish tries to kill his daughter, for refusing to go with McDonald, Jules interferes. Huntly takes sides with Jules and Batiste, and after a desperate fight they escape with Hilda.

The last act finds the party in flight, resting at the portage of Little Bear river. Baptiste, Huntley and Hilda embark in a canoe, leaving Jules alone to return to the McTavish home for the purpose of killing McDonald, and avenging Annette. Before Jules can start on his return journey, however, McDonald appears in pursuit. There is a fight which ends in the death of McDonald at the hands of Jules.

The piece will be presented here by the Hall Players and the scenic environments precisely the same in every detail as those used in New York and Chicago.

FIRE

farm buildings in the county. It was one of the largest in Licking county and was well filled with selected feed for the dairy stock kept on the farm. Two large silos, filled to the top with ensilage, were destroyed with the main structure. This loss is particularly regrettable because of the value of this feed to the dairy stock.

More than 60 tons of fine hay had been stored in the great mows and was entirely consumed. Much grain and other feed was contained in the various feed bins conveniently arranged in the building.

After saving the live stock, the heat was so intense that the workers found it impossible to make any effort whatever to save any of the vehicles, farming implements, etc., stored in various parts of the structure. These will all be a total loss.

In speaking with Mr. Jones Thursday, he stated that he had been four years bringing the farm up to the highest point of modern efficiency, and that special attention had been given to placing the buildings for purpose of convenience and sanitation. The barn which burned was his pride and its loss is a severe blow to him.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken to prevent just such a disaster. None of the employes on the place was permitted to use tobacco about the place and as much as possible, all work in the upper portions of the barn was done before dark, so no lights would be necessary.

Mr. Keller, the superintendent, was unusually careful. Even the children were not permitted to play in the barn for fear they might accidently start a fire.

The structure was so large that it lighted up the heavens in the east and caused much excitement among the residents of Newark. Thousands of telephone inquiries were handled by the telephone offices.

The ruins of the big structure smouldered all night and were still burning at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Mr. Jones stated that it was too early to tell of his future plans. He had not determined whether he would rebuild the structure. He said that he would have to make arrangements for temporary quarters for his stock because of the fact that winter weather was coming on and the stock would have to be protected.
